General Information

About the Texas Lineman's Rodeo Association

The Texas Lineman's Rodeo Association, Inc. (TLRA) is a non-profit organization created to offer line worker's in the great State of Texas a way to showcase their pride in the profession of high voltage line work. The TLRA is composed of volunteers devoted to the promotion of charitable, educational and electrical safety activities, including, but not limited to, the continued education of line worker's, the encouragement of cost-reducing efficiency and proficiency methods in the work environment, building relationships of trust and teaching teamwork techniques, sharing of ideas to bring innovation to the industry and networking that will foster better working relationships between utilities.

About the Rodeo

The Texas Lineman's Rodeo was formed to offer the line workers of the State of Texas a way to showcase their skills in a family oriented, fun and competitive environment. In many cases, the Rodeo is the only way for the line worker's family to witness first-hand what the job is all about. The Rodeo is held on the Guadalupe Blanco River Authority's Nolte Island Park just outside of Seguin, Texas. The island is approximately 160 acres of a pristine wildlife habitat that is close to town, but with a feel of true country openness and atmosphere.

Trademarks

The Texas Lineman's Rodeo Association (TLRA) and the TLRA logo are registered trademarks and protected by the laws of the United States. Any unauthorized use or replication without express written consent by the TLRA Board of Directors is a violation of law and will be prosecuted.

Participating Utility Flag Display

Each electric utility, Contractor and Corporate Sponsor that participates in the 2019 Rodeo will have the opportunity to have their company flag displayed on a Rodeo field entrance pole during the Rodeo, provided spaces are available. Utility flags cannot be larger than 3' x 5'. Flags must be delivered to the Rodeo command tent no later than 2:00 p.m. on Friday, July 19th and can be picked up following the end of competition on Saturday, July 20th. Mounting brackets and standards are provided by the TLRA to hang each flag. Placement of the flags will be determined by the TLRA. It is the responsibility of the participating entity to pick up their flag after the Rodeo.

Qualifications to Compete

If an interested competitor was ever a qualified, practicing line worker and is currently employed full-time with a qualified electric utility or contractor, they are eligible to compete in this Rodeo. The competitor's current full-time employer must openly support the participation of the competitor and be willing to sign the authorization form. Participants are welcomed from any legitimate electric utility or line construction contractor in the world. NOTE: A person cannot compete if they are on the TLRA Board, Advisory Board, or a member of a subcommittee of the TLRA. In addition, a person is ineligible to compete if they attended any Advisory Board, Chief Judges or Judges meeting. This does not include the field building day on Nolte Island.

NOTE: All Competitors shall be required to use fall arrest, positioning devices and fall restraint systems that meet the 29 CFR 1910.269 and 1926 Subpart V Standards at this Rodeo. No exceptions.

Journeyman (Lineman) Teams

Journeyman Lineman teams consist of three members; two climbers and a groundman with an optional alternate. All three members and alternate of a team must be employed full time by the same electric utility or contractor. The groundman and/or alternate must meet all requirements when used to replace an injured or disqualified team member. Each team member will be required to wear a wristband and team number on the back of their competition shirt, which will be provided in the registration packet. With lineman classifications being different at each utility, the utility sponsoring the team must determine if their linemen meet the requirements. A lineman is a person who has successfully completed a formal apprenticeship program, or a person that has completed at least four years of Apprenticeship at an electric utility, is performing the duties of a lineman and can no longer compete as an Apprentice in this Rodeo. The employing utility or contractor shall sign the TLRA statement stating the person is authorized to compete. Each of the three registered team members will receive one TLRA shirt and cap when they pick up their packet.

Each registered journeyman rodeo team must supply at least one (1) judge and apprentices must supply one (1) judge for every two (2) apprentices registered. If a utility does not supply enough judges to satisfy their participant/judge ratio, the utility will choose the team(s) and/or apprentice(s) that will receive a 10 point deduction at the Tool Inspection for EACH missing judge. In addition, if assigned judges fail to show up and participate during the competition on Saturday, their teams and apprentices shall be held to the above mentioned deductions.

Description of a Groundman

A groundman is a non-climbing participant of the team. They must be employed by the same utility or contractor as their teammates. The groundman can be an apprentice, a climber, or any employee from that utility. If an apprentice is a journeyman team member, they will not be allowed to participate in the apprentice events, and will not be allowed to climb if one of the climbing team members should drop out for any reason. Only a qualified journeyman can replace a climbing journeyman team member as described above. See "Substitution Procedures" below.

Description of a Climber

Climbers must be a lineman, as described above. They must be qualified to climb electric utility poles and the employer must attest to their qualification.

Apprentices

A person is considered an apprentice for four years once they enter a utility or contractors' apprenticeship program. An apprentice cannot compete in the apprentice competition if they exceed four years in that position. They can however, compete as a Journeyman Lineman if the employing utility or contractor is willing to provide the TLRA a statement that the apprentice has completed four years of training, is performing the duties of a lineman and is qualified to compete as a Journeyman Lineman. If an apprentice has ever been classified as a Lineman or Journeyman at any electric utility or contractor, they cannot compete as an apprentice at this Rodeo. Each registered apprentice will receive a TLRA shirt and cap when they pick up their packet.

An apprentice promoted to lineman or journeyman prior to July 1, 2019, will not be allowed to enter the 2019 Rodeo in the apprentice competition. An apprentice that becomes a lineman or journeyman after July 1, 2019, will be allowed to compete in the apprentice competition, provided they have not competed more than 4 times in the Rodeo.

Registered utilities are required to supply at least one (1) judge for each journeyman team and one (1) judge for every two (2) apprentices competing. If a utility does not supply enough judges to satisfy their participant/judge ratio, the utility will choose the team(s) and/or apprentice(s) that will receive a 10 point deduction at the Tool Inspection for EACH missing judge. In addition, if assigned judges fail to show up and participate during the competition on Saturday, their teams and apprentices shall be held to the above mentioned deductions.

Alternate Competitors

An alternate for a journeyman team must be registered prior to the close of registration on Friday, July 19, 2019. The alternate must be present with the team when packets are picked up on Friday, July 19, 2019. Only one alternate allowed per team. All three members and the alternate of a team must be employed full time by the same electric utility or contractor. The alternate must meet all requirements of the position they will replace should they be needed to compete in place of an injured or disqualified team member. Alternates can purchase a TLRA shirt and cap at the command tent. A utility can have an alternate to substitute for any of their registered teams, however, once the alternate is used, they cannot be used by another team for the utility.

Substitution Procedures

Any additions or planned changes to team members or team positions must be addressed with the registration committee and scoring committee before 5:00 p.m. on Friday, July 19th. Only registered alternates will be allowed to substitute. No substitutions or rotations will be permitted, except through approval of the Master Judge and the TLRA Board registration committee at the TLRA command tent. (Examples of an acceptable substitution include illness, injury, or emergency in which one of the competitors must leave the competition). Should an alternate have to compete for a team member, the entire team (with scorebook) will have to report to the registration committee at the command tent. The registration committee will install a new wristband on the alternate and pin the exiting (injured) team member's number on his shirt. The score sheets will be changed to reflect the alternate's name. Once a substitution is made, the new team must complete all remaining events with that team. The team is responsible to remove the exiting team member's wristband and turn it into the registration committee. Failure to follow the substitution procedures may result in the team being disqualified from the Rodeo competition. Only one substitution will be allowed per team at the Rodeo. NOTE: If a team enters into an event and is assigned an event judge, they cannot request to substitute a team member and continue participating in the event. The Event's Chief Judge along with the Master Judges can stop a team in an event should they believe a team member may be incapable of continuing the event due to safety or health related issue.

Event Judges

Registered journeyman rodeo teams must supply at least one (1) judge and Apprentices must supply one (1) judge for every two (2) apprentices registered. If a utility does not supply enough judges to satisfy their participant/judge ratio, the utility will choose the team(s) and/or apprentice(s) that will receive a 10 point deduction at the Tool Inspection for EACH missing judge. In addition, if assigned judges fail to show up and participate during the competition on Saturday, their teams and apprentices shall be held to the above mentioned deductions.

The rodeo competition could not occur without the dedication and commitment of our volunteer judges. If you have a line worker's background and/or knowledge and experience with electric transmission, distribution, construction and maintenance operations, and would be willing to volunteer your time to this event as a judge, we certainly appreciate the assistance. Please complete the judge's registration form found on our website and in the registration packet. Judges are required to wear the appropriate PPE the day of the Rodeo (hardhat, closed toed shoes, etc.). Judges may wear shorts and short sleeve shirts while judging events. Judges will not be permitted to judge contestants from their own utility, former utility or a utility that a relative is participating (spouse, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, son, daughter, step-child, nephew, niece, grandchild, etc.). Please be aware that there is a mandatory judge's meeting on Friday, July 19th, at 1:00 p.m. at the Nolte Island Pavilion.

All registered judges will receive a TLRA shirt and commemorative cap with their registration packet.

Judges' immediate family members may be eligible for the TLRA Scholarship.

Volunteers

If you would be willing to commit your time to help make the Texas Lineman's Rodeo successful and would be willing to assist as a volunteer, please complete the volunteer's registration and liability release forms. Volunteers perform a variety of tasks, such as greeting people at the events, serving as entry/exit personnel at each station, score sheet runners, assist in children's activities, parking, technical assignments, and other miscellaneous duties.

All registered volunteers need to check in at the command tent and will receive a TLRA shirt and commemorative cap with their completed registration packet.

Volunteers' immediate family members may be eligible for the TLRA Scholarship.

Event Workshops

There will be no event workshops on Friday, July 19th. Judges will still have their meeting at the Nolte Island pavilion as scheduled. Competitors are not allowed within 300 feet of the pavilion during the judges meeting.

Tools

Each competitor will be required to provide their own hooks, belt, hardhat, safety glasses, long sleeve shirt(s), hand tools, 20kV or 30kV rubber gloves, protectors, handlines, hood bag and line hose bags. The competitor must also furnish their own cover-up, line hose, hoods, blankets, hotsticks, etc., and other tools needed to complete the events as outlined in the packet. Cover-up must be a minimum of Class 2 (20kV). Velcro straps on climbers must be used as manufactured. No modifications are allowed (see General Rules). Please make sure that your tools are clearly marked for identification. Gloves do not need a test date for this Rodeo, however the TLRA recommends the utility test their gloves for use on the job per OSHA standards.

Rodeo Grounds

The Rodeo competition will be held at the GBRA, Nolte Island Park. Directions and map are included in the packet. Directions and more detailed information will be posted on the TLRA website. All registered rodeo participants will receive this information. Please see Nolte Island Rules for additional guidelines.

ATV/UTV Transportation

For safety, liability and insurance concerns all utilities and contestants will be prohibited from utilizing motorized transportation for the transport of person(s), tools, or materials on Nolte Island. Depending on the ground conditions, the TLRA may provide transportation for teams and equipment during the Rodeo event. Efforts will be made to assist utilities in getting equipment and tools to their team sites surrounding the field.

Drones/UAV Safety

Due to safety, liability and insurance concerns for participants and guests, NO drones or Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAV's) will be allowed to fly on Nolte Island. Violators of this safety rule may subject their utility/team to disqualification from the Rodeo. Only one safety courtesy warning will be given to violators.

Electrical Hookups at Team Site

The Rodeo field may not have electrical hookups close to the utilities' assigned team site. Portable generators may be used by each team at their team site; however, the decibel level cannot exceed 70db. Teams that do not have a generator and need AC power will be allowed to set up along the main road where the electric pedestals are located. Teams will be responsible to clean up their site of trash. Any fuel or oil spills shall be reported, and the person and/or team will be responsible to contain and clean up the contaminated soil. See Nolte Island Rules for additional guidelines.

Safety

The TLRA believes that safety, education and training is a primary concern for every electric utility and their employees. We envisioned the Texas Lineman's Rodeo to be a venue in which safety is the priority for the competitors. The teams and apprentices that compete also have the ability to practice for several months, the events that occur at the Rodeo, which pushes their knowledge base and improves their consciousness of how important safety is in their profession. In addition, we feel very strongly that the families and co-workers of the linemen and apprentices need an opportunity to witness, first-hand, the many challenges that are present in the lineman's world. If we do our job right, as the competitors compete, they will see the faces of those co-workers and loved ones and recognize how precious life is and keep safety a priority in their profession.

Conduct on the Nolte Island

The Guadalupe Blanco River Authority has been generous in allowing the TLRA to hold the Rodeo on their island park. Please be mindful of the pristine beauty of the island and help us keep it that way by disposing of trash and waste in the appropriate containers.

Hardhats and other PPE shall be worn any time a person is within the roped-off work area. Failure of an apprentice and/or team member to do so could result in the team receiving points deducted from their score. On Friday, July 19, 2019, only authorized personnel will be allowed within any roped-off area on the Rodeo field. No exceptions.

Any vulgar and/or unprofessional behavior by teams, apprentices, spectators or utilities will not be tolerated while on Nolte Island. We want everyone to have a great time and enjoy themselves. We represent the utilities we work for every day, please be courteous and professional.

Please refer to the "Guidelines for Use of GBRA Nolte Island Park" for more information.

Employment Solicitation

The Texas Lineman's Rodeo Association strictly forbids employment solicitation by any person, team, utility, vendor or sponsor at all Rodeo sponsored events. Any person, team, utility, vendor or sponsor that is found to solicit employment will be counseled and may be asked to leave the Rodeo sponsored event(s). Anyone reporting solicitation will be kept anonymous to the fullest extent possible. There may be some college/trade school apprentices at the Rodeo as spectators. Please refrain from soliciting them during the day of the Rodeo competition.

Judges at each event will be verifying that everyone is following their pre-assigned order by initialing the schedule. Only the master judge or assistant master judge is authorized to require a competitor to do an event out of sequence.

After each event completion, the event judge must sign the scoring sheet. The chief judge will verify the scoring of the event judge. The chief judge will then remove the original score sheet and forward to the scoring committee. The copy must stay in the competitor's book. It is the competitor's responsibility to ensure that their competition number, name, score and time are recorded accurately on the correct event scoresheet, and that the team or apprentice leaves the event ground with only one score sheet.

Verifying Scores

Apprentices can verify their written test score after 12:00 Noon at the TLRA command tent. All Teams and Apprentices will have the opportunity to verify their event scores through text, E-mail or in-person at 3:00 pm. Scores shall only be shared with the competitor or utility coordinator. Prior to verification, the competitor shall have to show proof of entry and then sign a score verification sheet. All Teams and Apprentices that choose not to verify their scores shall be considered to be agreeable with the scores as entered. Scoring verification closes at 4:00 p.m. All scores after 4:00 p.m. are deemed correct and final. Any evidence of tampering with score sheets shall result in immediate disqualification of the team and/or apprentice from the Rodeo and possibly future Rodeos.

Scoring/Judging Guidelines

The TLRA Board of Directors set forth the guidelines:

- Time will only be used as a tie breaker.
- There will be no discretionary, extra or bonus points awarded.
- The team or apprentice is responsible to retain one copy of the score sheet at the conclusion of each event.
- Judging will be based on safety, work practices, equipment handling, and timely completion of the event.
- All OSHA safety rules will be observed during the events.

Judging at the Texas Lineman's Rodeo

Our goal at the Texas Lineman's Rodeo is to be fair and consistent in judging all events. If you have a line worker background and/or knowledge and experience with electric transmission, distribution, construction and maintenance operations, and would be willing to volunteer your time to this event as a judge, we certainly appreciate the assistance. When you volunteer to be a judge it is important to attend all judges meetings. The purpose of the meetings is to have the best judges possible in all events at the Rodeo.

The journeyman teams and apprentices participating in the Rodeo have spent many hours preparing to compete and deserve dedicated judges interested in fair and consistent judging.

Sponsorships

The TLRA, Texas Lineman's Rodeo is only made possible due to the generous donations from supporting sponsors, vendors, utilities and the great volunteers that give of themselves to make this a weekend of family fun for the greatest industry and the most honorable profession in the world.
